“I am not so sure that I could hope for a world without dementia, for in a world without dementia we would be without the ones we love who have taught us that remembering and planning and naming and knowing are not the key activities of human life, but rather that feeling and being and touching and singing have enormous riches and depths that we are often too busy to relish in our race to rationality.”

(Murna Downs, in Killick & Allan, 2001, p.62)
