WHAT IS DEMENTIA?

Dementia describes a collection of symptoms that are caused by disorders affecting the brain. It is not one specific disease. Dementia affects thinking, behaviour and the ability to perform everyday tasks and in time will interfere with the person’s normal, social, and working life.

Everyone with dementia is unique. There are many different types of dementia and symptoms can present differently in different people.

DEMENTIA IN AUSTRALIA

There are currently 330,000 people in Australia who have dementia and many of these people are living and actively participating in their community. There are some simple steps you can take to make your local community, business or organisation more dementia-friendly. TALK TO ME
Please talk to me, not my carer, family member or friend. Don’t prejudge my level of understanding.

PLEASE SPEAK CLEARLY TO ME
Make eye contact and speak clearly. Use short sentences, with one idea at a time. Avoid jargon, as I might misunderstand.

PLEASE KEEP QUESTIONS SIMPLE
Make sure I am listening and use simple questions and/or repetition, offered with sensitivity. It’s easier for me to answer direct questions, rather than open-ended questions, such as saying ‘Wasn’t it lovely when we went out to the park yesterday?’ not just ‘Wasn’t it lovely yesterday?’.

TREAT ME WITH DIGNITY AND RESPECT
I am still a person, so don’t patronise me. Respect and empathy are important to everyone. If I act differently it may be because I am having difficulty communicating or because of my disease.

DON’T QUESTION MY DIAGNOSIS
The symptoms of dementia are not always obvious. Listen to me and don’t minimise my feelings.

DISTRACTIONS CAUSE DISRUPTIONS
Less noise and fewer distractions, such as bright lights, will help me to focus.

BE PATIENT AND UNDERSTANDING
Sometimes it takes a little longer for me to process information and find the right answer. Don’t rush me. Allow me time to speak.

BREAK IT DOWN
Providing information in smaller chunks will really help me.

SIGNAGE
Please use clear and simple signage.
